Genesis, Nineteen Seventy-Six

A couple of years ago a reporter, Lyle R. Amlin of the Rohnert Park (Calif.) Clarion, wondered how God would fare if he had to create earth under today's environmental regulations.

As mind-boggling as that thought was in his presentation, it would be even more frustrating if He tried it today — only two years later!

Building on Reporter Amlin's idea, which he called GENESIS '74, here is the way it would look today:

Recently God announced that he planned to create earth. This decision was published in the DAILY HEAVEN NEWS on June 6, 1976. The story included background material. It read:

In the beginning God created Heaven and Earth.

He was slapped with a class action lawsuit by the Heavenly Protection Agency (HEPRA) for failing to file a Galactic Environmental Impact Report (GEIR).

GEIR granted God a temporary permit for the Heavenly portion of the project, but He was issued a cease and desist order on the Earthly part pending further investigation by GEIR.

After filing his building construction request with the Astral Building Construction Department (ABCD), God appeared before the HEPRA Council with an Environmental Impact Application to answer questions. His answer to "why?" was He "simply liked to be creative."

God said He needed a place to put Man on. One member of HEPRA — a woman — asked if He was being a male chauvinist. God said no, He wasn't, because He would make woman from the man's rib — but she said that was worse.

Going on, God said He would make a light to shine over the Earth — and this point should never have been brought up.

One member of HEPRA, an active member of the Sier-rangel Club, protested: "How would the light be made? Would it be coal-fired or a nuclear generating plant? Would there be strip-mining? What about thermal pollution? Air pollution?"

God explained the light would come from a ball of fire.

HEPRA didn't really understand that but gave provisional approval to the Ball of Fire concept with these exceptions: 1. there would be no smog or smoke from the ball of fire; 2. a separate burning permit would be acquired from the Firmament Air Pollution Control Board (FAPCB); 3. since continuous light would be wasteful of energy, it should be dark half the time.

God agreed and stated He would make firmament amidst the waters.

One ecologically radical FAPCB member accused Him of double talk and the Board tabled the action until God could get a firmament permit from the Angelic Bureau of Land Management (ABoLM); rezoning approval from the Universe Planning Organization (UPO), and an excavating permit from the Galactic Environmental Impact Center (GEIC).

HEPRA asked if there would be only water and firmament and God said, "Let the earth bring forth the green herb, as such as may seed, and the fruit tree yielding fruit after its kind."

HEPRA agreed as long as only native seed was used.

Asked about future developments, God said, "Let the waters bring forth the creeping creatures having life, and the fowl that may fly over the Earth of the firmament of Heaven."

Here again HEPRA took no action pending recommendations from the Cosmic Wildlife Federation (CWF) and the Audubongelic Society Ltd. (ASL).

Everything appeared to be in order until God requested permission to complete the project in six days. He was told that He would have to get special dispensation from the Un-heavenly Board of Supervisors (UBoS).

On the usual three to two vote, God was told by UBoS that HEPRA would require a minimum of 189 days to review the application, an outside firm would have to be hired (and paid for by God) to study the GEIR for "omissions". And then there would be a public hearing — easily taking 10-12 months before the UBoS could again consider the request.

Three of the five UBoS said that the decision might be held up even longer since they planned a trip for a Universe destination not yet decided upon.

"Perhaps I should tell them where they should go," mused God.

Ronald Reagan Says:

The key to progress is not a federal subsidy or another government program. The true secret of America's greatness is freedom, the dynamic working together of millions of individuals, each seeking an individual goal in a society that assures them the freedom to climb as high as their own drive, ambition and talent can take them.

Surprises Scarce in Tuesday's Election

There were few surprises in Tuesday's election.

Ronald Reagan and Gov. Jerry Brown fared as prognosticators predicted.

Dr. Sam Hayakawa will engage U.S. Senator John Tunney and King Golden will go against U.S. Representative Bob Wilson in the general election according to incomplete returns.

Mid-morning Wednesday returns had Pat Kelly scheduled for the November race against U.S. Representative Clair Buren.

Former Assemblyman Bob Wilson came on surprisingly strong against veteran State Senator Jack Schrade.

In assembly races it looked like this:

Bill Craven against a write-in.

Jim Ellis against Tim Cohelan for Assemblyman Bob Wilson's 77th District post. Mike Bollman ran slightly behind Ellis.

Sportscaster Al Couppee against Larry Kapiloff in the 78th District.

Philip Andreen against Peter Chacon in the 79th; Lynn Pankhurst against Wadie Ded-deh in the 80th.

For supervisor: Tom Hamilton takes on Jack Walsh in District 1.

3 in Running
Walt Kenrick, Lucille Moore, Stan Boney are top three candidates in the 2nd.

Lou Conde is well ahead of Roger Hedgecock in the 3rd. On state propositions the local, incomplete vote:

1—school aid, no; Cal-Vet, for; 3—water loans, for; 4—local colleges, against; 5—

County Continues Swap Meet Study

By John Kowalczyk

Any weekday, folks living in the southwest La Presa area, a small expanse of residential properties sandwiched between the South Bay Freeway and Sweetwater Reservoir, enjoy a relatively serene existence.

The reservoir to the south, Mt. Miguel to the east and the foothills of Spring Valley northward provide a scenic backdrop to an idyllic suburban community.

The scene changes on weekends, however, when thousands of outsiders pour into the neighborhood to shop and sell at the nearby Spring Valley Swap Meet.

Bargain hunters and bargain hawkers have been upsetting residents there since the swappers started meeting.

The County says it is investigating the neighborhood problems. And they expect to continue the study for several weeks, according to Dick Es-gate, Land Use and Environmental Regulations (LUER) director.

Weekend Study

We're going to keep sending our staff out there on weekends to observe the traffic and noise," he said, "in order to find out if the complaints are valid."

If they are valid in the eyes of the LUER staff, it will say so in a report to the Board of Supervisors. The report will recommend what Board action, if any, should be taken.

LUER was ordered by 2nd District Supervisor Dick Brown to study the impact of the weekend market place after his office received complaints from several neighbors in the vicinity.

Under strength of a new amendment to the county swap meet ordinance, introduced by Brown in March, the Board can revoke the business license of a swap meet operator who perpetrates the kinds of nuisance alleged by the neighborhood.

But those who have spoken for the residents say they are more interested in eliminating the dangers and nuisances than in running a business out of town.

Morrie Peterson, president of the Spring Valley Chamber of Commerce, says the Chamber didn't get involved to put anyone out of business.

Peterson, who headed a swap meet sub-committee, said that their aim was to end the nuisances. He said the owner had been cooperative and had solved the problems to the Chamber's satisfaction.

Has Tried

"He has tried," Peterson said. "Illegal parking is no longer a problem and he's toned down the volume on the loudspeakers."

Parkers who didn't want to brave the owner's unpaved lot parked on the access streets instead, taking away some residential parking space and, in a few cases, blocking homeowners in or out of driveways.

The owner, Lyman Derr, asphalted a large portion of his property and marked lanes for parking. This year he put up signs directing sellers to a more remote entrance on Quarry rd.

The sellers were a source of litter in the neighborhood. Rev. Clarence Agard, pastor at Mt. Miguel Covenant Church, said that those who wanted the most desirable selling spaces would arrive at the gates as early as 10 or 11 p.m. on the night before the meet.

A line of cars backed up on Akard st. throughout the night, and some of the waiting motorists discarded litter from their overnight snacks on residents' property Agard said.

Lawn Breakfast

In one instance, a group of sellers set up a folding table on the lawn of a homeowner and sat down to breakfast, he said.

Derr maintains that the sellers line-up is no longer a problem, since all sellers are now directed to the southern entrance on Quarry rd, which is not a residential street.

To keep the sellers off the road, Derr purchased eight acres of unoccupied land south of Quarry which is now used to park the cars of sellers waiting for a good booth location.

Agard, whose name is coincidentally similar to the street his church faces, is a spokesman for residents who feel that not enough has been done.

Derr may have solved the late night, early morning line-up problems and toned down the loudspeaker noise, but the Akard st. traffic problem remains.

LAFCO Delays LG City Decision

By John Kowalczyk

"Typical," is how Attorney Jim Dorman described it.

He was standing outside the county chambers Room 358 Monday morning with other members of the Lemon Grove Incorporation Reorganization Committee who supported his sentiments.

The committee members were growling about the latest in 11th-hour delays which have been putting off an election on Lemon Grove incorporation.

This time the culprit was LAFCO, the Local Agency Formation Commission, the agency which supervises the orderly growth and development of special districts and cities.

The six-member board acted on recommendations of its staff to continue the matter of Lemon Grove's north boundary until July, pending proper notification of a hearing.

LAFCO meets only on the first Monday of each month.

Dorman, also a Lemon Grove school board member, told a school board audience Tuesday night, "We've had so many continued meetings in this (Lemon Grove incorporation) effort that I think if we ever do get to vote to incorporate we should name our new town 'Continuation City.'"

Possible Lawsuit

The delay was to protect the agency from a possible lawsuit for not properly notifying the public of a hearing of the proposed boundaries for Lemon Grove City. The hearing, scheduled since mid-April for June 7, did get publicity in the form of a legal notice in this newspaper on May 27.

But that same week the Lemon Grove Incorporation Committee met and decided to remove its interest in Vista La Mesa, the square mile pocket of largely residential land north of the freeway.

The hearing publicity concerned a proposed Lemon Grove boundary which would extend northward to University ave. After Lemon Grove committee made its decision to return to a Highway 94 north boundary on May 24, LAFCO staff members decided they would have to print new meeting notices with maps reflecting the different boundaries.

Also changed would be the meeting notification regarding La Mesa's reorganization plans which now include all presently unincorporated land west of Palm ave., north of Highway 94 and east of the City of San Diego.

Also present for the Monday morning turn-down were Lemon Grove Fire Chief Robert Adams, businessmen Dell Lake and John Stenbeck and Paul Copeland, a San Diego State student and Vista La Mesa resident who has been working with the Lemon Grove committee.

The LAFCO delay was not expected to create a further delay in the Lemon Grove incorporation election, now scheduled for March 1977, but committeemen were concerned about another election postponement if the boundary issue was not settled (or settle-able) by LAFCO next month.

Since La Mesa city officials and Lemon Grove proponents now agree on the freeway boundary, no further hitch is expected.

"LAFCO can set the boundaries in July and send it back to the Board of Supervisors in time for them to act on it before the deadline for filing an item on the November ballot," Dorman said.

Lemon Grove is anxious for La Mesa to stage its reorganization election in the fall, so that the Lemon Grove movement will have no further reliance on what that city does.

Missing the November election filing deadline would move the La Mesa annexation issue to no earlier than March 1977 and Lemon Grove incorporation to June 1977, Dorman said.

Delays, Delays

The committee's frustration at delays in their efforts were compounded by the LAFCO technicality.

Hopes for a June 8 "Bicentennial City" election were dashed in April when the Board of Supervisors elected to take a "hands off" approach to Lemon Grove until the boundaries were set straight by LAFCO.

A formal protest by La Mesa Mayor Paul Fordem precipitated the Board of Supervisors decision, although Fordem and other city officials claim to have documented evidence that their protest against Lemon Grove encroaching north of the freeway dates back to the fall of 1975.

Charge Changed On L.G. Youth

Vincent Broesch, 19, of Lemon Grove, a former Mt. Miguel High School student, faces a June 18 sentencing in Judge Raul Rosado's court in San Diego.

Judge Rosado had ordered psychiatric tests for Broesch after Broesch was convicted last month of a pipe bomb incident in May 1975 in which the auto belonging to Mt. Miguel vice principal James Finch was damaged.

Broesch's attorney said that the charge of placing the pipe bomb was reduced by a jury to possession of bomb material.

Broesch's mother said that the bomb charge was changed to a "lesser included offense."

Placing a bomb or possessing the material are both felonies, a district attorney said.

Planners Seek 125 Freeway, 54 Expressway by 1995

By John Kowalczyk

The Valle de Oro Citizens Executive Committee's sub-committee on transportation has called for a full freeway to be built on the proposed state Highway 125 and suggests that 54 be developed as an expressway rather than a freeway.

Ray York, senior planner for the County Integrated Planning Office (IPO) who has been working with the subcommittee said that the committee's recommendations conform to the state department of highways long range plan for the area.

Although new state highway construction is at a standstill due to lack of state revenue, the California Department of Transportation (Caltrans) retains plans to build Freeway 125 parallel but due west of Sweetwater rd. and develop Rt. 54 as an expressway.

Both have a projected completion date of 1995.

The proposed Rt. 54 expressway will be developed from the existing Jamacha rd. in El Cajon, southward to Jamacha blvd. and further south, linking with the South Bay Freeway, York said.

An expressway is defined as a major highway with relatively few access roads. Intersection traffic is controlled by traffic lights rather than ramps.

Freeway is Expressway

The South Bay Freeway is not a freeway, according to highway department terminology, but is rather an expressway.

IPO and Caltrans have gen-

LG Planners Eye Zoning Alterations

The Lemon Grove Planning Association meets tonight at 7:30 p.m. at Golden Avenue school.

On the agenda will be discussion of the latest developments in the Lemon Grove Incorporation movement and the county's proposed zoning matrix changes in the Lemon Grove Community Plan.

Main function of the Association in recent months has been to monitor the County Integrated Planning Office's work on zoning changes, says Bob Holladay, president.

The Assn. is seeking an R-1-A designation for most of the residential Lemon Grove area. That zoning designation would permit only single family dwellings at a density of up to 7.2 dwelling per acre, Holladay said.

The present bulk of residential property is zoned R-2-A, he said. This zoning permits the building of duplexes.

The Lemon Grove Planning Association generally meets the second Thursday of the month. The group did not meet in May.

erated traffic projections and other data and furnished the Valle de Oro transportation subcommittee with their findings.

They show a projected daily traffic count of 30,000 to 40,000 one way trips on Rt. 54 (Jamacha blvd.).

"The figure shows that traffic volume warrants a fairly large facility," York said.

It is likely that the road will be enlarged to four lanes, he said. Jamacha blvd. is presently a two-lane, undivided highway.

Some residents whose children walk the road to and from Monte Vista High School have complained about the lack of sidewalks and the danger of cars traveling 50 m.p.h., the posted speed limit. Earlier this school year the residents made an unsuccessful appeal to the Grossmont Union High School District governing board for bus transportation for their children.

Transportation is one of twelve areas of study conducted by the VdO CEC which is a county appointed group of citizens charged with drafting a Valle de Oro Community Plan.

"Any plan for transportation in Valle de Oro is speculative," York said, "because the transportation plan is dependent upon what the final plan for land use will be."

The amount of commercial and residential growth permitted by the planners will determine the highway needs.

Area Funeral Services

B. Galloway

Memorial services were held Wednesday at Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary for Bertrum M. Galloway, 79, of 9902 Jamacha Blvd.

Galloway, a foreman for Standard Oil Co., died June 5 at a local hospital. He was a member of the Inglewood Lodge No. 421 F. and A.M.

A native of Colorado, Galloway had been a resident of the county 17 years.

Sole survivor is a daughter, Barbara Lobosco.

Cremation was planned with interment at sea. Donations to the Heart Fund were suggested.

John Mighetto

Recitation of the Rosary was recited Thursday, June 3 at Conrad Lemon Grove Mortuary for John P. Mighetto, a sign painter who lived at 2514 Glebe rd., Lemon Grove.

Mighetto, 47, was born in San Diego and is a life-long county resident. He was a former musician with the San Diego Symphony.

A funeral mass was held Friday at St. John of the Cross Church, Lemon Grove, followed by interment in Holy Cross Cemetery.

Mighetto died June 1 at a local convalescent home.

Surviving are his mother, Florence I. Meghetto, of Lemon Grove; a daughter; a son; a brother and two grandchildren.

Anna Eardley

Services were held Thursday, June 3 at Greenwood Mortuary in San Diego for Anna F. Eardley, 77, who lived at 1200 Grand ave., Spring Valley.

Mrs. Eardley, a native of Oklahoma, had lived in the country 38 years. She died Sunday, May 30 in a hospital. She was entombed in Greenwood Mausoleum following services.

Surviving are her husband, Claude; a son; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Grands' Pot Luck

A pot luck luncheon is held tomorrow by the Past Noble Grands Assn., District 54 of the Rebekah Degree, at the Colina De Sol Rec. Center, 5319 Orange ave., San Diego.

A business meeting follows the lunch.

County Studies Valley Swap Meet

Highway Patrol and Sheriff's units are assigned to the weekend meets, but Agard says that traffic still is neither adequately controlled nor adequately patrolled.

He questions how diligent the county is studying.

"I did see a crew set up traffic counters one Tuesday, but I've seen no one here on weekends," he said.

Esgate said that county staff members have been assigned to observe and document the conditions the past two weekends.

Derr said that not only has he seen county officials during the weekend, but he spoke with one on the scene recently.

He spoke with Bob French, a zoning enforcement officer on May 30. French, gathering evidence of the traffic volume and other impacts of the giant marketplace, said that he didn't see anything, that day that would call for a license revocation, according to Derr.

Derr adds that he has seen Highway Patrol and Sheriff's Units at the scene, even a helicopter unit taking photos.

In January, Agard chaired a hearing on the swap meet at his church, a quarter mile away from the buyers' entrance on Akard st.

"I wouldn't quite phrase it that way," he said when asked if he led a group opposed to the swap meet.

Like the Chamber committee, he merely wants to eliminate the hazards and nuisances.

Thousand Deaths

His parishioners, many of whom are elderly retirees living in the Mt. Miguel Retirement Village across the street, "die a thousand deaths every week just trying to cross the street."

All day Sunday there is a steady stream of cars flowing into and out of the swap property.

Agard has counted more than 100 cars passing the intersection of Kempton and Akard in five minutes, or 1200 cars an hour. That's an average of one car every three seconds.

It takes a child or an elderly person at least twice as long to walk across Akard. "This presents a terrible danger for children and elderly people who want to get across the street," Akard said.

Two Decades in Business

Derr has operated the Spring Valley Swap Meet at its present location for six years. He opened the facility to bargain hunters in 1970 on a 20-acre portion of the 35 acres he owns.

The Spring Valley business was a spin-off from his similar National City operation, a 15-acre location which he has operated for 18 years.

Derr is a resident of Grand ave. in Spring Valley and has lived there most of the 18 years he's been in the county.

Prior to that, he was an investor in a 110-acre flea market operation in San Jose, the largest such operation in the world, he said.

War in Texas Recounted in Newest Book

By Max Goodwin

Much history of Texas has been dished up as a romantic affair.

Read Sanford H. Montaigne's "Blood Over Texas" (Arlington House Press) and you'll be in on the gritty-gritty element of a war that was born of politics, double-dealing and arrogance.

Those charges are usually made on the United States government, but Montaigne's history lays it at the doorstep of arrogant and opportunistic Mexicans.

His revelations, with documentation, comes as a surprise to those who recall high school history which left some question as to the guilt.

The serious study in "Blood Over Texas" reveals Texas as an uncommitted area seeking a link-up with anyone that could give a sense of nationality.

Texas, prior to the Mexican War of 1846, would have been Mexico — if invited. Instead, according to Montaigne's research, Mexican military and Mexican politicians, trying to outdo each other, fomented a war — a war that climaxed in 1846.

Without a war, a war not wanted by Texas but forced upon her, Texas today might have been upper Mexico.

Those who want to understand the pressure which produced the War of 1846, would do well to study the research material provided by Montaigne's "Blood Over Texas."

Matrons, Patrons Meet Saturday at S.D. Rec.

The Order of the Eastern Star's Past Matrons and Patrons Assn. meets Saturday at 6 p.m. for a pot luck dinner, to be held at the Fairmount Rec., 4077 Fairmount ave., San Diego.

Board Appoints LM-SV Teacher CdO Principal

It will be a sort of homecoming for Nancy MacFarlane.

After 13 years at other teaching assignments, MacFarlane will return to Casa de Oro Elementary School next school year.

She taught at CdO from 1961 to 63.

This time around, though, she will be the school's chief administrator.

MacFarlane was appointed acting principal this month by the board of education of La Mesa-Spring Valley School District.

She will be replacing Bob Davis for one year. Davis is going on sabbatical leave.

The acting principal has been teaching in the district since 1954 and has been assigned to seven schools in the district.

She began at Murray Manor Elementary and also taught at La Mesa Jr. High, Brier Patch, Lemon Avenue, La Mesa Dale schools, all in La Mesa. She has been teaching the last two years at Bancroft School in Spring Valley.

Sixteen qualified applicants were considered for the temporary post.

Flag Day Festivities Planned at SV Library

The Spring Valley Library will observe Flag Day Saturday, June 12, with a flag raising ceremony at 1043 Elkton Blvd. Scout Troop 373 will present the colors in honor of the occasion. Scout Master Craig Wagner will be in charge of the presentation.

The ceremony comes two date set aside to commemorate the stars and stripes.

After the ceremony, Valley residents will be entertained by Mickey Mouse, Winnie the Pooh and several other puppet characters skillfully handled by San Diego County's official Puppet Lady Marie Hitchcock. Hitchcock has been a Spring Valley resident 23 years and has entertained with her puppets 28 years.

The library is located in the Thriftymart shopping center.

Billy Graham Adds Day To San Diego Crusade

An extra day has been added to the Billy Graham summer crusade in San Diego, it was announced this week.

Due to a cancelled San Diego Chargers football game, the Evangelist may lease the stadium for one more day, August 13.

"We are thankful," said Crusade Director Charles Riggs, "Not only does this allow us one more night for the crusade, but it gives us much more time to set up at the stadium. As things were we would have had to work all night."

The crusade is now scheduled for eight nights, August 13 through 20. The services will begin at 7:30 p.m. on week nights and 6 p.m. in Sunday.

AREA BIRTHS

The following is a list of area births recently recorded at Grossmont Hospital:

May 24
Mr. and Mrs. Thomas J. Summers, Spring Valley, a boy, Jason Lee.

May 25
Mr. and Mrs. Earl L. Guthrie, Lemon Grove, a boy, Joshua Lee.

May 27
Mr. and Mrs. Armando E. Nunez, Lemon Grove, a boy, Steven.

Mesa Jewel Meeting Date

Mesa Jewel Rebekah Lodge No. 409, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, hold a meeting at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the VFW Hall in Lemon Grove.

The meeting, presided by Fern Korab, follows a pot luck dinner.

NEW ATTORNEY — Dan Horwick, 31, a veteran of 6½ years with the San Diego County District Attorney's office, has become an associate in the law office of Mulder and Nemser Law Offices at 7970 Broadway, Lemon Grove.

Horwick received his Doctor of Law degree from USD after attending law school at UCLA. He served as a deputy DA in San Diego, South Bay and El Cajon and became noted for his success in handling family support cases.

During his service he personally tried more than 75 cases while handling nearly 2,000 — dealing, trying or issuing. He has received several commendations from his superiors for his trial ability.

Horwick is single and anticipates taking part in Lemon Grove community projects.

Jerry Mulder opened law offices here in 1964 and was joined by Frank Nemser in 1966. Both attorneys were graduated from U.C. Berkeley.

EC Adelines at Expo

Singing Hills Chapter of Sweet Adelines, Inc., El Cajon, will entertain at the Southern California Exposition on June 23. A patriotic program will be presented from the Community Stage at 5:30 p.m.

Visiting Hours Changed At Mercy Hospital

Mercy Hospital and Medical Center has extended its visiting hours to noon 'til 8:30 p.m., Frances Peterson, R.N., Director of Nursing, said this week.

"While this change only affects the regular patient floors, excluding the Maternity Floor, Pediatrics, Intensive Care Units and the Mental Health Unit, we believe that this will help to alleviate our growing parking problem," Mrs. Peterson said.

Symphony Rehearsals

The San Diego County Symphony, under the direction of John Metzger, will begin its summer program on Monday.

Rehearsals will be held at Horace Mann Jr. High Auditorium, 4345 Fifty-Fourth st., at 7 p.m.

Rehearsals will be on Mondays only, a change from the Monday-Thursday rehearsals of the past.

Interested musicians should contact Metzger at 295-2941 or attend the first rehearsal.

VFW Auxiliary Elects

The First District Ladies' Auxiliary, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will hold its convention Saturday at Lemon Grove Junior High school, 7866 Lincoln ave.

Luncheon will be at L.G. V.F.W. Post 2082 Home, 2885 Imperial ave.

Election and installation of officers will follow the luncheon.

Am. Legion Officers Installed Friday

Newly elected officers of the La Mesa Unit of the American Legion Auxiliary are installed Friday at 8 p.m. at the American Legion Hall, 8118 University ave.

Mt. Miguel Principal Calls Summer School More Relaxed

Students at Mt. Miguel High will walk off campus today with three months vacation ahead of them. But it won't be much of a vacation

3 Earn School Scholarships

Three local girls join a growing list of names of individuals receiving awards for educational achievement this graduating season.

Monte Vista senior Linda Ferro received a $250 Ruby Leeson Memorial Scholarship, sponsored by the San Diego County Home Economics Association. She competed against 21 high school seniors who plan to major in home economics in college.

Miss Ferro will major in dietetics at California Polytechnical U., San Luis Obispo. She is the first Grossmont District senior to receive the award.

Another winner is Susan Freeman, from Monte Vista class of 1974, who won $300. She is a student at Cal Poly and will be the Junior and 4H Division chairman at this year's Southern California Exposition, her former high school teacher Mrs. Genevieve Ruef reports.

A college student winning a scholarship is San Diego State's Barbara Kotnik, who received $300 from the Country Friends, Inc. Kotnik is a teaching assistant at her alma mater, Mt. Miguel, and is best known as the former Miss Lemon Grove 1972-3.

to more than half of the 2500 who attend the high school.

William White, vice principal who will serve as summer school principal, said that nearly 1400 students have already registered for summer school, which starts in just eleven days.

All pre-registered students will report to the quad at 7:30 a.m., June 21 to pick up programs. New unregistered students must report to the counseling office at 8 a.m.

Summer school at Mt. Miguel is a seven-week session which is the equivalent of a full semester. Students will be scheduled for two classes, each lasting two hours a day.

Post Session

A post session, also the equivalent of a semester is on an even tighter schedule. Those classes will be held for three weeks, from August 9 to 31.

Post session classes meet for four hours daily.

"Summer school accelerates the work of regular school classrooms," Principal White said. "More is covered in a shorter time... it's easier for a teacher to teach for two hours than for 45 minutes a day and have to spend most of that time reviewing yesterday's material."

Good attendance is imperative. A student is dropped after missing more than three days.

White describes summer school as a "more relaxed" way to learn.

"It's easier for them to concentrate on just two subjects, rather than five," he said.

GROVE DANCER AT EXPO — Erin Nelson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Nelson, 1570 Drexel dr., Lemon Grove, will be dancing in a show put on by the Walker Dance Studio of Santee at the Southern California Exposition. The performance is scheduled for Saturday, June 26 at 2:30 p.m. on the Community Stage.

Jose Feliciano Heads Talent List Appearing at S. Cal Exposition

Guitarist Jose Feliciano, Anson Williams from the "Happy Days" TV show, Chicano country singing sensation Freddy Fender, the Johnny Mann "Stand Up and Cheer" singers and the Lynn Rodeo are due for multiple-day runs at the Southern California Exposition which opens in less than two weeks in Del Mar.

Andy Russell, Helen O'Connell, The Sons of the Pioneers and Glenn Ash with Bolly Bee will each appear one day on the Grandstand Stage as featured entertainers.

Admission to Grandstand shows is free to fairgoers, some 600,000 of whom are expected this year.

Fender will open the first night of the fair with a combination of country and Spanish melodies and lyrics. He will also appear at 8 p.m. June 23 and 24 and is followed June 25, 26 at 8 p.m. by Feliciano, the internationally-celebrated blind guitarist.

Andy Russell heads a two-hour Fiesta Mexicana on June 27 at 7 p.m.

On the first six days the 2 p.m. Grandstand shows will feature the Lynn Rodeo with bronco busting, bull riding and other Wild West competitions.

Helen O'Connell, singing star who got her big break with Jimmy Dorsey's band in the 40's will do 1:30 and 7:30 p.m. shows on Grandstand, June 28.

The Sons of the Pioneers will appear at 1:30 and 7:30 p.m., June 29.

All subsequent headliners will perform on the grandstand at both 2 and 8 p.m.

They include Johnny Mann and company who bring the former network TV show to the fair June 30 and July 1 and 2.

Anson Williams, who plays "potsie" on "Happy Days," entertains July 3 and along with "The Bright Side," a group of young singers and musicians.

Comedian and country western singer Glenn Ash closes out the fair July 5 in company with Molly Bee.

Fireworks will follow the evening show on July 3, 4 and 5.

Band Chairman Announces July 4 Concert Tribute

The Organ Pavilion in Balboa Park on July 4 will be the site for a world premiere of a symphonic composition titled "Bicentennial Aspirations."

John R. McCrea, chairman of the San Diego Concert Band and resident of Lemon Grove, said the band commissioned the renowned American composer Roy Harris to write the three-movement tribute to the country's 200th birthday.

The premiere will be free and will be held at 7 p.m. on July 4. But the commission fee needs to be paid and the Band is encouraging donations and concert subscription sales.

Circulars with subscription blanks are available at most county music stores, McCrea said.

The San Diego Band is comprised of the top musicians in the area. They are chosen through strict auditions from the ranks of local professional musicians. Many are either presently members of the San Diego Symphony or have been in the past.

Others are prominent in the orchestras for opera, ballet, musical comedy and traveling shows.

McCrea has been chairman of the Band for three years. A San Diego City Schools elementary orchestra teacher, he also plays in other groups including San Diego Symphony and the Starlight Theatre orchestra.

McCrea, a clarinet player, has five children and has been a Lemon Grove resident 17 years.

Woman's Club Installs '77 Officers Wed.

New officers of the Spring Valley Woman's Club were installed Wednesday morning at ceremonies held at the Navajo Canyon Country Club.

Mrs. Carl Prasser became the club's president for the 1976-77 year.

Other officers include Mrs. D. C. Bailey, dean of chairman; Mrs. H. R. Ketell, program chairman; Mrs. May Williams, ways and means chairman; Mrs. Brooks Shinn, memberships chairman; Mrs. R. E. Clarke, hostess chairman.

Also, Mrs. C. R. Vryheid, publicity chairman; Mrs. E. P. Myers, recording secretary; Mrs. Pat Oliverio, inside publicity; Mrs. R. V. Duncan, treasurer.

Also, Mrs. J. Belt, corresponding secretary; Mrs. W. Lewis, auditor and Mrs. D. E. Irwin, parliamentarian.

Cut Carbohydrates, Reduce Sensibly Are 4th, 5th Steps in Health Plan

By Lelord Kordel

Number Sixteen of a Series

The nutritional folly of gorging yourself on starchy and sweet foods was fully discussed earlier. But I want to make sure that you do not confuse natural carbohydrates with the artificial, devitalized carbohydrates that find their way into "civilized" stomachs in such appalling quantities — white breads, cakes, pastries, spaghetti, white rice, processed corn meal, dry cereals (many cooked cereals, too), candies, and carbonated beverages.

"A minimum of carbohydrates," which is my fourth commandment for nutrition, means: Eliminate all those artificial starches which bear small resemblance to carbohydrates found in natural foods.

Half your planned campaign to regain lost youthful appearance and energy will be won when you throw artificial, devitalized sugars and starches out of your daily eating. Then reward yourself for this commendable step by turning instead to the delicious, health-building natural sweets.

Reduce With Reason
My fifth commandment is "reduce with reason."

Everyone agrees these days that overweight shortens life — certainly it prevents your looking and feeling as young as you would desire. Nothing is more aging or more inimical to youthful appearance than obesity.

Therefore, if you are seriously overweight, begin a sane reducing program at once — for the sake of your health, as well as your youthful appearance. But you must reduce with reason.

High Protein Menu
The following high-protein reducing menu is designed to produce a weight loss of no more than five to eight pounds a month. To lose more quickly than this is unwise.

You may vary or adapt this menu as you wish, interchanging one high-protein meat, fish or fowl with another; and alternating eggs with cheese. But you should confine the major portion of your fruit and vegetable consumption to those listed as 5 per cent and 10 per cent carbohydrates in the list which follows this menu:

BREAKFAST
1 small orange, or half grapefruit, unsweetened
1 slice cold meat, fish or chicken; or 1 pan-broiled minute steak
1 boiled, poached or shirred egg (also scrambled over hot water; or 1-inch cube of cheese, or 1/4 cup of cottage cheese
Small bowl of whole grain porridge eaten with fortified milk
1 cup hot skim milk sweetened with 1/4 teaspoon of honey; or black coffee or tea, sweetened with a little honey if desired.

MID-MORNING

1 small glass skim milk, buttermilk or yogurt; or tomato juice fortified by whipping in a little cottage cheese.

LUNCH

1 cup clear, skimmed broth
1 slice broiled or roasted meat, fish, poultry (don't overlook liver in this diet)

1 green salad, dressed either with lemon juice and very little salt, or with 1/4 cup of cottage cheese, seasoned with minced chives

1 serving of fresh 5 per cent or 10 per cent fruit
Hot beverage, sweetened with honey only.

MID-AFTERNOON

1 small glass of skim milk, either hot or cold and flavored with a little crushed fresh or cooked fruit.

DINNER

1 cup skimmed beef or chicken broth
1 serving meat, fish or poultry

1 serving cooked green vegetable such as asparagus or broccoli; or a tossed green salad, as at lunch

1 slice whole-grained bread (but only if you must)
1 serving egg custard or milk sherbet made with skim milk or buttermilk, and fortified with extra powdered skim milk.

No Gnawing Feeling

This is far from being a "starvation" menu, and I promise you won't have a lank, gnawing feeling in the pit of your stomach while following this reducing diet. Nor will you suffer any loss of energy. On the contrary, you'll feel like a new person as soon as all that high-protein food begins to take hold, and the unnecessary poundage melts away.

Carbohydrate Values

Now here are the more common fruits and vegetables classified as to their carbohydrate content, that is, to the proportionate number of calories they contain:

Five per cent vegetables and fruits: Asparagus, bean sprouts, cabbage, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, eggplant, endive, greens, kohlrabi, leeks, lettuce, mushrooms, okra, olives, peppers, pumpkins, radishes, string beans, summer squash, Swiss chard, tomatoes, watercress, cantaloupe, honeydew melon, lemons, watermelon.

Ten per cent vegetables and fruits: Beets, carrots, onions, oyster plant (salsify), rutabaga, squash, turnips, blackberries, cranberries, currants, gooseberries, grapefruit, limes, oranges, peaches, strawberries.

Fifteen per cent vegetables and fruits: Lima beans, green parsnips, fresh peas, apples, apricots, blueberries, sour cherries, grapes, loganberries, mulberries, pears, pineapple, plums, raspberries.

Twenty per cent vegetables and fruits: Beans (dried or canned) lima, kidney, navy; corn, potatoes, bananas, cherries, sweet grape juice.

Next: The sixth "commandment" explains how a high-starch diet loads arteries with fatal fat and floods human carburetor.

Volunteer Group Becomes Friend Of Nursing Home

Nursing home patients in the county have gained some new friends. Friends of Nursing Home Patients is a newly formed, non-profit, incorporated organization. Its purpose is to recruit and train volunteers who will visit patients in nursing homes.

Planned training sessions will include the psycho-social aspects of being institutionalized and regulations concerning the home and patients' rights. Follow-up sessions will be held regularly for the volunteers to further their education.

Initial reception to the program, an organization spokesman said, has been favorable at area nursing homes.

Volunteers, says a spokesman for the group, contribute in many ways. Not only do they visit with patients on a one-to-one basis but they also meet with small groups of patients and conduct activity projects. Nursing homes attest to increased well being of their patients under these programs.

Irrelevant Week Marked by Racer

An unheralded and probably unimpressed stock car driver entered in the Riverside 400 NASCAR Winston Cup Grand National stock car race June 13 at Riverside International Raceway will be uniquely honored.

The 36th fastest qualifier in a field of 35 drivers who will start the $124,925 race will be a guest of the inaugural Irrelevant Week celebration at the Balboa Bay Club in Newport Beach June 21-25.

Should he choose to accept his celebrity status, the hapless racer will be a special guest of the celebration along with Calvin Kirk, a wide receiver from the U. of Dayton football team.

Kirk's claim to obscurity is that he was selected last in the National Football League draft by the Pittsburgh Steelers after 486 other college players had been taken.

No. 36 Pays

The fact that Riverside 400 qualifier No. 36 will not be allowed to race should make him at least as irrelevant as Kirk, it was surmised by Raceway president Les Richter, because Kirk at least can look forward to the Steelers' rookie camp, where he will have a chance to make the world championship team. As for No. 36, he'll have to buy a ticket on race day if he wants to see the 400.

Relevant drivers in the race include all the stars of NASCAR, including Richard Petty, David Pearson, Cale Yarborough, Bobby Allison, Benny Parsons, Darrell Waltrip and Dave Marcis, plus a strong West Coast contingent headed by Ray Elder and Jimmy Insolo.

Any significance that might be attached to failure to qualify for the Winston Cup series race should fade to nothing in time for Irrelevant Week, which begins eight days after the Riverside 400 Richter said.

Wills and Freeman Combination Makes Good Baseball Reading

By Max Goodwin

An interesting melding of talents of two men diverse in endeavors provides the lacework of a feature article in the current issue of NEW WEST, a bi-weekly magazine that surfaced at the newsstands just a few months ago.

My favorite columnist, Don Freeman, who occupies the television page of the SAN DIEGO UNION, uncorked a crackerjack study of the Los Angeles Dodgers manager Walter Alston.

More precisely, he wrote of baseball's famed Maury Wills' clubhouse-eye view of Alston's managerial ability. Wills' opinion of Alston, who has earned 23 one-year contracts from Dodgers' president Walter O'Malley, does nothing to improve Alston's image among those who read NEW WEST and Freeman's article "Is Walter Alston a Second-Place Manager?"

Wills is a rough-and-tumble athlete whose record boasts 104 stolen bases for the Dodgers in 1962, and who became Major League Shortstop of the Year in 1970. He is an outspoken critic of his boss, Alston.

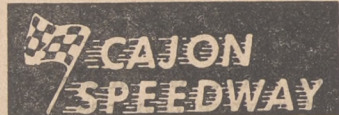

Arrogance Admitted

Freeman's delicate literary needlework translates Wills' robust observations of Alston, and others, into interesting and informative reading. But Wills doesn't gild his own lily. He says of himself "... with my arrogance as a ballplayer and outspokenness, I know I couldn't have been easy for any manager ..."

Taking a shot at Alston's inability to communicate with his players, Wills tells of a troubled player who went into Alston's office with a personal problem — and came out feeling worse!

What a compact definition of a complex personality! It's you'd expect to find in a Freeman column.

And why not? The NEW WEST article is a chapter from a book just published last week, "How to Steal a Pennant" by Maury Wills, with Don Freeman, his tape recorder and his typewriter. It is published by G. P. Putnam Sons and is on sale at better bookstores for about $9. "How to Steal ..." is a baseball book, pure and simple. It is pure baseball with a simple theme: baseball.

Chicago Tribune

Few of Freeman's adherents may realize that he is an outstandingly capable sportswriter who came to the SAN DIEGO UNION by the way of the sports department of the CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

In a current issue, SPORT MAGAZINE carries his article "Randy Jones", a splendid article about the San Diego Padres star pitcher.

Freeman turns up in more sporting events press boxes than many sportsnews people. That interprets as "I'm a hardcore sports fan. I love sports!" It is this philosophy which shows through "How to Steal ..."

"How to Steal ..." is the kind of a book that women will enjoy. Little Leaguers and their parents will gain much pleasure and knowledge through it. As Freeman tells colleagues, "Being with Maury and hearing him talk taught me a lot about baseball that I didn't know — but thought I did. Those who read it will profit — especially women and kids."

Discipline

"No," said Freeman, "I didn't take the assignment with the idea of learning more about baseball. That came as a plus. I wanted to know about the man. I was interested in how an athlete could discipline himself to become a fine, self-taught banjo player — one of the most complicated stringed instruments to master. I was interested in the persistence that lifted him from 9 years of minor league discipline to become one of baseball's idols."

Freeman, himself, is quite a study. A quiet, friendly person, who listens well, is re-

Del Mar Track Opens July 28

A record $330,000 in stakes will be offered at Del Mar during the 1976 Thoroughbred racing season which begins Wednesday, July 28, it has been announced by Del Mar Thoroughbred Club President and General Manager Donald B. Smith.

Richness of the stakes schedule reflects Del Mar's dramatic surge among the nation's racetracks wherein business nearly has doubled since 1970. At the conclusion of 1975, the popular seaside track ranked sixth in daily average mutual handle — $1,867,919 — and eighth in daily average attendance — 15,941.

Twenty-six added money events are scheduled again highlighted by renewal of Del Mar's companion classic for two-year-olds, the $50,000 added Debutante, the $60,000-added Futurity, and the invitation $100,000 Del Mar Handicap for older horses.

spected by his colleagues for his depth of knowledge and his breadth of interests.

Writing Flexibility

"Writing a television column," Freeman admits, "demands writing flexibility. Television reflects everything that life offers compressed into program segments, day after day. Any situation on the screen, no matter how outrageous, has happened somewhere, sometime. To properly interpret for the reader, a critic must be as knowledgeable as the scriptwriter. Not just a single writer, but the sum total of those who cover the whole television production spectrum. Many of these writers are extremely gifted," he notes.

About Freeman on sports. "More than 15 per cent of the average television programming is sports. That's probably a higher percentage than any other single specialty. It's another reason why there is a growing interest in sports. Serious television watchers become sports experts without trying. That suggests that television columnists must be well versed in the sports field as well as in current events, geography, music, theatre arts, travel, sociology, psychology and politics."

Journeyman Writers

Freeman is a journeyman writer who does his work well. "A professional writer should be able to branch out into many fields. A columnist would be lost if his ability was restricted to a single field," he says.

He cited Jack Murphy, Red Smith and Jim Murray as three current sports columnists having the ability to go far afield because of their interest and knowledge in more than sports.

What began here as a single opinion of Freeman's magazine article has become diffused in a pot pourri of Freeman, Wills, a magazine article and a new book.

But beware. There's a lot of things to like about writer Freeman. A little exposure to his journalistic talent can hook a reader.

Pemberton Wins Cajon Feature

It took Lemon Grove racer Lanny Pemberton six years to win his first main event — and only one week to win his second feature in a row at Cajon Speedway.

Pemberton won the 40-lap main Saturday in a convincing fashion with a quarter-lap separating him from the rest of the pack in a race that was 15 seconds off the track record.

His nearest competitor was Ron Overman, 1974 champion.

Pemberton

The race was marred by three accidents. The most serious was a wall crash by Ralph Dineen who jumped from his racer, ran to the infield and collapsed. His injuries include bruised ribs.

Pemberton moved up to third place behind Ron Easu and Overman in track standings. He is followed closely by Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley. Points of the top four are 930, 875, 860 and 825. Only 105 points separate fourth from the lead.

A Spring Valley racer, Ted Kallos, won the 8-lap heat. Martha Starr, of Alpine, won the Powder Puff main event.

The winner of the main event this week will earn 150 points with 5 points awarded for every racer he passes. That means any one of the top four can be leading point-holder after next Saturday's match-ups.

An added feature Saturday will be a destruction derby. In it, Steve Luffe will be seeking his third straight crash-to-the-finish win.

Luffe apparently has found success in his Oldsmobile.

Los Alamitos Meet Draws Top Horses

LOS ALAMITOS — With opening ceremonies completed, this Orange County race track is moving into its fourth week of an 82-night summer quarter-horse meet.

After a three-month visit to Bay Meadows, such outstanding horses as Wanta Go, Easy Date, He Flies, She's Precious, Big Badger Bar and Wheatland are expected to be speeding down the straightaway and around the curve six nights a week, Monday through Saturday, until Aug. 24. Each evening's nine-race program will feature $5 exacta wagering on the first, sixth, eighth and ninth races.

Many new and promising 2-year-olds along with the proven veteran campaigners and super stars of quarter horse racing will be stabled at Los Alamitos through the summer and they'll be competing for nearly $3 million in purses.

TAKE FIVE

By John E. Wirges

San Diego State has always been known as kind of a humble sort of school. It began that way, developed that way and, until recently, seemed content to meander down the path of life making no waves, allowing no controversy and booking few variances with what is right, just or holy.

Life came to the Aztecs back in 1897 with establishment of a two year "normal" school so primitive, it didn't even have a football team.

Over the years it grew, like Topsy, without roots, headed nowhere and apparently without purpose. Then, in 1921, two things happened that effected a change. San Diego State became a 4-year school and took on a two year football program. Growth was at hand.

And just recently State exploded into full university status, despite diehard opposition from the San Diego Chamber of Commerce, who tend to live in the past and take a strong stand for yesterday and the University of California lobby. But that's another story.

It's the Big Time up on Montezuma Mesa these days, with more than 30,000 students fighting faculty members every day for recognition, grades and parking spaces. Some stout and sturdy sprouts even study.

And, while change comes slow to all educational processes, it does finally arrive and historic moments are enacted. Such a happening is being proclaimed these days in the semi-hallowed halls at San Diego State U.

The Aztec Athletic Department is joining the rest of the school. They're going into a 4-year program. They're taking on freshman football players. Aztec grid boss Claude Gilbert is actively recruiting high school players for his Montezuma mobs. It's a whole new ball game.

And the reason is simple. There's been a breakthrough in scheduling. Athletic Director Dr. Ken Karr and his staff have seduced some of the nation's hardest hitting and highest ranked football schools to joust with Gilbert's gladiators. And things are getting better all the time.

No longer does East Cupcake Teachers or West Porkchop A & M dot the Aztec grid menu. Gone are games with Fleet Air, SubPac, N.T.C. and the San Diego Marines. Ranked teams are signing up and the schedule is getting rougher'n a cob on a chilly day. The likes of Arkansas State, Bowling Green, Utah State and New Mexico bring bone bruising battle to Gilbert's brutes this year and things get enjoyably worse down the road a little bit.

The nation's second ranked team, Arizona State, has agreed to waylay the Aztecs at Tempe in '79 to highlight a calendar that includes Missouri, Wisconsin, Miami (Fla.), Utah State, Arizona and West Virginia.

Eat your heart out, Bruins, Sit on it, Trojans. Big time college football is coming to San Diego and you stuck up, Pac-8, L.A. prima donna's ain't a part of it. Here's hoping your snobby ways stick you right in your recruiting pocket with a wipeout of local prep procurement.

And that Claude gets 'em. He's got eight now and he's lookin' for 10 or more next time around. "We need the continuity," is the way he puts it.

"We want the youngsters that would be going to a 4-year school," he hedges, keeping his fences mended with J.C. coaches from whom he gets the bulk of his beef. "The freshmen we have now will be seniors or 'red shirt' juniors for the '79 season. If we can add 10 or 12 blue chippers next year we'll be ready for the kind of schedule we've got. Without them ... well ... it makes you consider cutting your wrists."

"The schedule is quite ... er ... challenging. It could be that 1979 will be the turning point in our football program. If we can muscle our way through that kind of schedule, we'll be on our way to becoming a perennial football power with national rankings."

Football, in its 50-odd year history at San Diego State, has been a suitable yardstick of the school's development. A humble beginning, semi-steady development and finally, positive blooming into a full blown major school schedule with a 4-year recruitment program.

One just hopes San Diego State University educators work as hard to remain worthy of its football team. Why, education could make a comeback.

Riverside 400 Goes Metric; 265 Kilometers an Hour Seen

When Riverside International Raceway opens for practice today for the Riverside 400, to be run on Sunday, Buddy Baker will roar down the back straightaway at speeds of 265 and more.

That's 265 kilometers per hour, equal to Baker's already awesome 165 miles an hour in his Spartanburg, S.C. spectacular.

Baker will be a prime candidate to break the track record of 181.068 kph set last year by Bobby Allison. If that sounds a bit much, Allison was timed at an average lap speed of 110.353 mph before NASCAR went metric. Sunday's race will be the first metric race in stock car history.

The race, 95 laps instead of 153, is 400 kilometers long rather than 400 miles, and the reason is that it is expected to produce a better show for spectators — eliminating the wait-him-out midrace strategy employed by most drivers and turning the Riverside 400 into a flat-out sprint race.

4.22 Kilometer Course
As for Baker, the most imposing man on the circuit at 19.557999 decimeters and 104.328 kilograms (6 ft. 5 in. and 230 lbs.), he's the sort of driver who should benefit from shortening the race, as he has the reputation for using a heavy foot to propel his 1,769.04-kilogram stock car around the 4.22-kilometer course.

Pretty Co-ed Key in Breakers 3-1 Opener

San Diego Breaker Robin Irvin, pro-volleyball's pretty co-ed, knows how the clay pigeon on the skeet range feels — or the duck in the shooting gallery.

Against the towering Los Angeles Stars' formidable front line in the season's opener at the S.D. Sports Arena, Robin WAS the target.

"Yes," she said, "they paid me a lot of attention I could have done without." The former UCSB star assessed her play in the season's opener like a veteran after the Breakers racked up a 3-1 victory against the Stars.

Star spikers Miles Pabst (6:5, 200), Jon Stanley (6:6, 205), Ed Becker (6:3, 190) and Peter Stefaniuk (6:9, 230) hummed every shot they could in Robin's direction but the plucky rookie stood her ground with a remarkable show of courage. The Stars fired 85 shots across the nets and Robin fended off 5 of them with few miscues.

Coach Applauds

"She's a gutsy player," said Breaker coach Rudy Suwara. "She hangs right in there. The difference between Robin this year and those five games she played for us last year is that now she knows immediately when she makes a mistake. She understands a lot more about the game . . . she avoids a lot of errors which she might have made a year ago."

Robin and Roseanne Wegrich (All-League last season) captivated the exuberant San Diego fans with their stellar play.

"It was a great, great team effort," smiled Rudy Suwara.

Robin Irvin

Robin admits to being nervous before the game.

"It was a big crowd and, well, Los Angeles is a big, tough team," she said. " . . . it sure felt good to have Wardy (Bill Wardrop) and the rest of the guys . . . and Rosie out there. Man, they give you confidence."

Racquetball Whiz, 18 Challenges Top Pros

Marty Hogan, at only 18, soon may become the top racquetball player in the world. He thinks so. And there aren't many players in the sport who don't agree.

Hogan, a St. Louis high school senior who plans to attend college in San Diego in the fall, has a Jimmy Connors-type attitude. He's confident, competitive and vocal, qualities which will be on display at the Leach-Seamco National Championship tournament June 16-29 at the Atlas Health Club in Mission Valley.

Winner of two major pro events this winter, the New England Open and the Milwaukee Open, Hogan will be second-seeded for the national championships behind defending titleholder Charlie Brumfield.

"I am the youngest racquetball player ever to win a major tournament and I know I can beat anybody," he said. "I have confidence in myself, in fact I've yet to meet a person who has as much confidence as I do."

Hogan has won nearly $7,000 in tournament purses for the 1975-76 season and has a solid chance for the $4,000 first place prize in the $15,000 Leach-Seamco event. He already owns wins over Brumfield and other top-rated players such as Steve Serot and Steve Keeley.

He was winning money at 15 and now, two years later, finds himself in the fortunate position of being able to ride racquetball's accelerating national popularity.

"I'm in a terrific position," he said. "In about three years I figure I'll be at the peak of my game. And about then, the sport will have grown to where there will be big money for the person on top."

In addition to the pro event, more than 400 amateurs will be competing in various divisions starting June 13.

The new 22,000 square foot Atlas Health Club, located behind the Mission Valley Inn, has seven racquetball courts, including two all-glass championship courts. Seating is limited but tickets are still available at the Atlas Health Club, 901 Hotel Circle South. The telephone is 298-9321.

Bicycle Racers Hit Rancho SD Track Sunday

The Rancho San Diego Bicycle Motocross Club will hold races throughout the day this Sunday at its track at 2700 Jamacha rd., 1/4 mile west of Cottonwood Golf Course.

Races will also be held on Sunday, June 27.

Registration for both dates will be from 8:30 to 10:30 a.m. and races will start at 11. Practice for registered riders only will be held during sign up hours.

Racing fee for members is $2. Nonmembers pay $2.50. All riders must be accompanied by parent or responsible adult.

Chargers Camp To Be at UCSD

It's official.

The San Diego Chargers will hold their 1976 summer training camp at UCSD.

Rookies will report to the La Jolla campus on Monday, July 5. Veterans arrive on Monday, July 12.

The Chargers trained at USIU in 1974 and 1975. General manager Johnny Sanders said the availability of a better and larger football field was the reason for the change in training sites.

The Chargers will stay at UCSD throughout the summer with an approximate 10-day break for their pre-season games at Tokyo August 16 and Hawaii August 21.

San Diego opens its pre-season schedule against the Philadelphia Eagles at San Diego Stadium on Saturday night, July 31.

New Hours Set for S.V. Rec. Programs

Spring Valley Park & Rec. District summer hours for activities at Mt. Miguel gymnasium now through August 8 are 3-9 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays; 6-10 p.m. Mondays through Fridays, according to Robert Balderas, gym director. Basketball is played at all hours.

Badminton — Tuesdays and Saturdays 6-8 p.m. Volleyball — Friday nights. Floor hockey — Youth teams being formed.

Ping pong, tablegames and similar sports, all hours. SVP&RD is reached at 460-2033.

Recruits Brighten Aztec Grid View

Head coach Claude Gilbert recruited eight top freshman players this season for his Aztecs football team, and at the rate the 1979 Aztec schedule is shaping up, Gilbert hopes all eight will be superstars by their senior year.

Aztec Athletic Director Dr. Ken Karr announced that San Diego State has added last year's No. 2 team in the nation, Arizona State, to the 1979 schedule. The game will be played in Tempe. The addition of the Sun Devils for '79 gives the Aztecs intersectional games that season against Missouri, New Mexico, Wisconsin, Miami (Fla.), Utah State, Arizona and West Virginia.

Karr also announced that he has scheduled Iowa State for the 1981 season for a game to be played in San Diego in return for the 1978 game between the Aztecs and Cyclones in Ames.

N. County Club Ace Test July 3-4

A full set of clubs and a golf bag, valued at $500, is the first prize in the Annual Ace Days Hole-in-One contest at StoneRidge Country Club July 3-4.

Contestants — amateurs only — will tee off 8:30-5:30 each of the two days.

In all, more than $1,500 in prizes is offered and the contest is free of charge.

During the two preceding years, more than 800 golfers took swings but none registered an ace. So the prize went to the nearest to the cup — 15 1/2 inches.

Prizes will also be awarded this year to those landing a ball within a prescribed circle.

Adults are eligible for prizes.

Six Juniors will receive plaques.

The club will be open to the public for the two days of the contest including the dining room and lounge.

StoneRidge is a mile east of Rancho Bernardo at 16605 Esplanada rd., an extension of Rancho Bernardo rd.

Heaven on Earth for Padre Fans 18 Games on June Home Schedule

The San Diego Padres will close out their current home-stand against National League Eastern Division opponents in the next seven days as the Padres face the New York Mets, Philadelphia Phillies and the Montreal Expos.

San Diego will play the final of the four-game series with New York tonight at 7 before plunging right into a big four-game series with the Phillies. The Padres and the Phillies will tangle in single games on Friday at 7 p.m. and Saturday at 6 p.m. and then wrap things up with a 1 p.m. double-header Sunday afternoon.

The unusual 6 p.m. starting time on Saturday is necessitated by the twin bill the following day.

Completing the home action for this first of three home-stands during the month of June will be Monday through Wednesday, June 14-16, meetings with the Montreal Expos. The first two encounters are slated for 7 p.m. while the Wednesday getaway game is down on the book for a 1 p.m. Business Special.

"Heading into the early part of June the Padres were probably the hottest thing in baseball," said Padre field skipper

32 Sports Superstars In Dewar's Tennis Play

One thing about Iz Becker, he draws athletes.

He should. He has built a reputation for generosity and fairness — a pair of human niceties understood by athletes.

Iz also attracts media people — those hard-to-convince drudges of the print and electronic media.

What a happy amalgam! People who excel in sports; people who disseminate that information — and Iz Becker.

This year Becker has again lined up a long list of superstars who are competing in his annual Dewar's Sports Celebrity Tennis Championships this week at Hotel Riviera in Las Vegas. 32 superstars by actual count in 11 different areas of competition. Some of the greatest names in sports — all playing tennis!

The tournament is so popular that Becker increased the field from 20 to 32 players and extended the tournament from four to six days.

Even so, the big, personable chairman had to build more new courts at the Riviera Hotel.

It was not always thus. When Becker started the Dewar's Sports Celebrity Tournament nearly 7 years ago, he had difficulty in convincing superstars to play.

"Now," he says, "we have to turn down some wonderful athletes because of a congested field."

The tennis competition is round-robin doubles and partners are changed after each set and each partner gets credit for games won. After three days of play, the top 8 players go for the championship.

Last year Hall of Fame slugger Hank Greenberg, now 65, together with his partner, LA Rams tight end Bob Klein, won.

Here are a few of the 32 superstars signed to play:

Hank Greenberg — hit 58 homers for the 1938 Detroit Tigers

Bob Seagren — 1968 Olympics pole vault winner

Jim Runyun — 1968 Olympics 1500 meter medalist and mile champ

John McNamara. "They were holding down the biggest lead of any of the divisional pace setters and were playing at a pace which, projected out for the rest of the year, would give them 100 victories easily."

"Probably the biggest factor the Phillies have going for them is their pitching. It has been quite good. That was the big question about the Phillies going into the season — just how good were the pitchers," explained McNamara. "Well, Jim Lonberg went through the first two months with an 8-0 mark and Larry Christensen was 6-1 while Steve Carlton was 5-2. I'd say that's enough to dispel any doubts."

"As for Montreal, it's too early to concede the pennant to Philadelphia and second place to Pittsburgh, but the way things are going it looks like it's going to be a pretty good fight for that eventual number three slot between the Expos, New York, Chicago and St. Louis. The way all of those clubs are bunched up, it wouldn't take much to take a club from the bottom to third or vice versa."

Ivan 'The Terrible' Gets Poked But Wins a Lot of Races, Too

RIVERSIDE — He breaks engines and he has his share of racing crashes, but when Ivan (The Terrible) Baldwin of Modesto is around at the finish he wins more often than not.

The controversial stock car driver, currently enjoying the hottest win streak in the West, will compete Sunday in the California 150 NASCAR Late Model Sportsman road race at Riverside International Raceway.

Baldwin hasn't won at Riverside, although he has been trying since 1969 and has finished as high as second once in 16 starts, but this seems to be Ivan's year."

The three-time NASCAR West Coast sportsman champ has won open competition features at Anderson (twice), Roseville, Las Vegas and Speedway 605. His victorious return to Orange Show Speedway — he used to live in nearby Highland and won the 1974 track championship in San Bernardino — was a perfect night with wins in the trophy dash, heat and main event.

106 Victories

It isn't news that Baldwin wins. He had scored 106 main event victories in his nine-year career going into the 1976 season. It's what he does on the track that draws attention.

Once he was suspended a full season for fighting in the pits. In his first race he crashed so hard the wooden fence at Orange Show Speedway had to be replaced by a concrete wall.

The night he won the Orange Show track title a disgruntled loser punched him in the mouth. Remembering that earlier suspension, he merely took the punch and did nothing.

Jealous rivals, upset by his aggressive driving style, concede that Baldwin is one of the better car builders in the country. The '76 Chevelle Laguna Baldwin built for Winston West Grand National rookie Gary Johnson of Modesto is one of the better machines to be seen in the Riverside 400 the same day.

Both races are being contested at metric distances, rather than miles. The $124,925 Riverside 400 will be 400 kilometers or about 248 miles, and the $10,000 California 150 will be 150 kilometers or about 94 miles.

Rancho Valle Subdivision Seen Nearer Construction

Dick-Con Corporation, developer of the Rancho Valle Subdivision, is moving closer to a construction schedule this week as City of San Diego councilmen are expected to decide on the zoning for the area.

City Council was expected to vote on an ordinance Wednesday to establish an R-16 zoning for the site located just southwest of Lemon Grove.

The project would mean an influx of some 200 students into the Lemon Grove and Grossmont Union school districts which overlap into the city.

6,000 Sq. Ft. Lots
The R-16 designation permits developers to build single family homes on 6,000 sq. ft. lots. The property has been zoned A-1-1, meaning for agricultural use, allowing for one dwelling an acre.

Since farming isn't what it used to be, the designation is commonly referred to as a "holding zone," meaning the land is waiting for reclassification for urban development.

The Rancho Valle site is a hilly brush covered area east of 69th st. at Mt. Vernon st. Verna Quinn, a resident on nearby Charlene st. in San Diego, has led a group of residents in the area called Broadway Heights in opposition to the developers' plans nearly every step of the way.

The group has been successful in increasing the lot size on the homes to be built, but has not succeeded in halting the project.

They think there is enough housing in the neighborhood already and would like the city to use the space for a park instead.

Impact Report

One episode during the last six months involved the environmental effects on the subdivision.

The San Diego Planning Department submitted a negative declaration on the project, meaning that it posed no significant environmental dangers.

The citizens' group wrote letters in November and persuaded the city's Environmental Quality Department to draw up an Environmental Impact Report.

The citizens objected to the zoning, drainage and traffic problems imposed by the developers plans.

Quinn said her group would be satisfied if the lot size was increased to 10,000 sq. ft. (R-1-10), and that a greater density of housing would be unacceptable. Dick Con specializes in low cost "affordable" housing.

The rainy season creates drainage problems on Federal blvd. near where McArthur and Mallard sts. intersect it. The development, Quinn said, would reduce the natural watershed in an already bad flood area.

The third of their list of environmental complaints is traffic. Subdivision access would feed vehicles onto Mt. Vernon and 69th st. in Lemon Grove, and Mallard and Federal in San Diego.

Mt. Vernon-69th access is rated at a capacity of 1,400 vehicles a day. Both are residential streets. They are running over capacity, Quinn said.

Mallard is designated by the county as a collector street with 5,000 daily capacity. It has been logged at 5,400 cars.

The main collector street for that area is Federal which is currently about 2,500 cars over its designated 5,000 vehicle daily limit.

The neighbors fear that more residents will aggravate an already overused road system in the area.

The EIR failed to mention the complaints in its first report, said Quinn, but a subsequent report, following an appeal by the group, did mention them.

No Court Case

But a bad showing in an EIR report can only be used against a developer in court. Since the group hasn't taken the matter to court, the project continues to work its way through city bureaucracy.

City Council met in May and decided to designate the zoning R-16, allowing 6,000 sq. ft. lots. Dick Con had originally wanted 5,000 sq. ft. lot sizes, but the developer changed plans when he learned the city would not okay lots that small.

Final Council vote on the zoning change, which takes

FROM Z TO A — A locksmith service in town will go from the back of the phone book to the front, as a result of a recent change in ownership. Karen and George Zumwalt (left) turned over the shop key recently to Guy and Millie DeAngelo who renamed the business A. Aaron Lock & Key Service. The new owners will continue the auto, home and commercial lock service and have a two unit mobile service. Zumwalt has returned to an earlier profession — locksmith at Camp Pendleton — while his wife will assume duties as a housewife. The DeAngelos are former hardware store owners from Connecticut who came to California two years ago.

the form of an ordinance, was expected Wednesday.

With final zoning approval, Dick Con can proceed with what the people at the planning department call a "hunting license." The technical name is "tentative map."

The city reviews the map, makes recommendations and approves it, then it's only a matter of obtaining financing and a building permit, and filing a final map.

Quinn and her group of neighbors intend to fight the developers even up to that final step.

RESOLUTION OF INTENTION TO ESTABLISH COUNTY SERVICE AREA NO. 79 — WEST BOUNDARY TRUCK TRAIL

On motion of Supervisor Brown, seconded by Supervisor Conde, the following resolution is adopted:
WHEREAS, pursuant to the provisions of the County Service Area Law (Ch. 2.2 (commencing with Section 25210.1) of pt. 2, div. 2 of title 3 of the Gov. Code), this Board is authorized to establish a county service area as a method for providing governmental services by the County within the unincorporated area thereof;

AND WHEREAS, application for approval of a proposal for initiation of proceedings for the formation of a county service area to be known as County Service Area No. 79 — West Boundary Truck Trail was filed with the Local Agency Formation Commission (Local Agency Formation Commission Reference No. DF76-2) as provided by Government Code Section 54791 and that said application for approval specified road improvement and maintenance as the governmental service(s) to be performed within said Service Area; and

WHEREAS, the Local Agency Formation Commission of the County of San Diego has heretofore approved and approved the establishment of a county service area to include the proposed territory described in the application for the purpose of providing road improvement and maintenance; NOW THEREFORE, IT IS RESOLVED, ORDERED AND DETERMINED that it is the intention of this Board to establish a county service area, as provided in Government Code Section 25210.15, as follows:

(a) A county service area is proposed to be established under the terms of Chapter 2.2 (commencing with Section 25210.1) of Part 2 of Division 2 of Title 3 of the Government Code in the unincorporated area of the County described on Exhibit A, attached hereto and incorporated herein, as the territory proposed for inclusion in the area.
(b) The name proposed for such county service area is COUNTY SERVICE AREA NO. 79 — West Boundary Truck Trail.
(c) The type(s) of extended county service(s) proposed to be provided within the area pursuant to said Chapter 2.2 of the Government Code is/are road improvement and maintenance, and except where funds are otherwise available from service charges collected pursuant to Section 25210.77a of the Government Code, a tax sufficient to pay for all such services is/are furnished on an extended basis will be annually levied upon all taxable property within such area at a rate not to exceed the maximum property tax rate authorized by Chapter 3 commencing with Section 22011, Part 4 of Division 1 of the Revenue and Taxation Code.
(d) The time and place for the public hearing on the establishment of the area, which shall be not less than 30 nor more than 60 days after the adoption of this resolution, shall be June 23, 1976, at 2:00 p.m., in Room 310, County Administration Center, 1600 Pacific Highway, San Diego, California.
At the hearing the testimony of all interested persons or taxpayers for or against the establishment of the county service area, the extent of the area or the furnishing of specified types of extended services will be heard, as provided in Government Code Section 25210.16.
At that hearing, the testimony of all interested persons or taxpayers also will be received and considered on the matter of whether the Board of Supervisors should declare to be a public road that portion of West Boundary Truck Trail contained within the county service area. The Board may so declare if the Board determines that the portion of the road as it lies on the ground has been used by the public as a road for a period of more than five years, with full knowledge of the owners, without asking or receiving permission to do so and without objection being made by anyone.
(e) The Clerk of this Board of Supervisors shall publish notice of the hearing by publishing a copy of this resolution pursuant to Government Code Section 6061 in the Spring Valley Bulletin a newspaper of general circulation published in the County of San Diego, as provided in Government Code Section 25210.16.

Due on account of penalties $ 164.83
Total amount due on $ 1,328.29
4. In order to avoid this sale, payment of the total amount above named will be required, together with the following:
(a) Additional interest accruing up to the date of payment.
(b) Cost of recording pendency of foreclosure, as provided in Section 3121 of the Streets and Highways Code;
(c) If incurred, costs of obtaining an abstract of title or title search;
(d) Treasurer's cost for mailing and posting Notice of Sale, as provided in Section 6505.1 of the Streets and Highways Code, except fee for issuance of Certificate of Sale, a set forth in paragraph 5 of this notice.

This bond may be reinstated upon payment of the amounts due, interest, penalties and costs, in the manner provided in Sections 3121 and 6631 of the Streets & Highways Code.
5. In the event of sale, such sale will include, in addition to the total amounts due on said bond as set forth in paragraph 3 of this Notice, the following:
(a) Interest on the above total amount accruing up to the date of sale.
(b) The cost of recording notice of pendency of foreclosure.
(c) The cost of title search, if incurred.
(d) The sums provided by Sections 26725 and 26746 of the Government Code for the conduct of the sale and for the furnishing of the name and address of the property owner.
(e) Cost of publication of the notice of sale.
(f) Treasurer's fee for issuance of certificate of sale, (7.00)

Volunteer Fire Aid Seen For Non District Homes

Volunteer firemen are circulating in the unincorporated areas of the county — areas not covered by fire protection districts — to acquaint residents with a fire emergency number — 1-800-552-8911.

Beginning June 30, the number is to be dialed direct and toll free from any location in the county.

These calls will be received at the El Cajon/Heartland Fire Communications Center by experienced fire communications operators and relayed to County Communications, California Division of Forestry or the Sheriff's Department by direct line.

Necessary emergency unit, volunteer fire companies, California Forestry Units or Rescue/Ambulances will be dispatched to any emergency scene by radio.

Door-to-door volunteer firemen will provide phone stickers, placards and instruction sheets together with the name of the local volunteer company.

Those who may be missed by the volunteer, should call the Office of Fire Services Coordinator at 440-4233.

Firehouse Declared San Diego Museum

The Firehouse Museum at 1572 Columbia st. has been admitted as the 11th member of the San Diego Inter-Museum Council (I-MC). The I-MC is a representative body for museums located in the San Diego area.

The Firehouse Museum houses early fire-fighting equipment and memorabilia in the former San Diego Fire Station number Six. It was founded in 1962 as the Pioneer Hook and Ladder Co. by a group of San Diego fire-fighting buffs. The name was taken from San Diego's first volunteer fire department formed in the early 1870's.

The collection includes San Diego's oldest fire-fighting vehicle — the La Jolla No. 1 — that was in service from 1895 to 1913; San Diego's oldest motorized fire rig, No. 1841, purchased for fire protection during the 1915 Exposition; and a 1903 American La France horse-drawn vehicle with steam pumper. These and other displays of fire-fighting vehicles, equipment and photographs are now on display.

Among the memorabilia is a unique collection of fire marks harking back to the days when fire companies were sponsored by insurance companies. Homeowners insured by the companies were given fire marks to display on their homes indicating that they were eligible for fire-fighting service in the event of a fire.

The Firehouse Museum, supported by memberships and donation, is presently planning a facility expansion to accommodate new exhibits. It is open from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., Saturdays only, free of charge.

OPERATIONS — Architect's sketch shows the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District's Operations Center under construction at 3900 Conrad dr., Spring Valley. The 26,880 sq. ft. center will be completed by September.

Work Begins on SV School Maintenance Facility

Construction has begun on the La Mesa-Spring Valley School District Operations Center at 3900 Conrad dr., near the intersection of Campo, in Spring Valley.

Don Koll Company, Inc. is building the $750,000 operations center which will be used for warehousing, bus repair and business maintenance.

The building was designed by the La Mesa architectural firm of Robert E. Des Lauriers.

The center will have 26,880 sq. ft. of space on the ground floor and a mezzanine with 5,120 sq. ft. of storage space. The building will be the height of a two-story structure. Its finish will be of exposed aggregate with a four foot metal fascia running the entire length and width of the center, its designers say.

According to Frank J. Sciacca, president of Don Koll Company, the project will be completed in time for the fall school semester and will provide 175 parking spaces for the office and work crews. The 450 ft. by 600 ft. site will be landscaped by the school district.

The concrete aggregate walls, measuring 24 ft. in height, will be cast at the site on the floor slabs of the operations center, and then lifted into position by huge cranes, a process that has been developed by Koll Company and used on other projects in the county, Sciacca said.

NEW HOME FOR ACE — It was around the corner and into larger quarters for Ace Automotive Supply's Lemon Grove store. Ace Auto of San Diego, Inc., with four other stores in the county, subleased the 12,150 sq. ft. building at 7702 Broadway vacated recently by Western Auto Supply Co. The new location, around the corner from its old 3308 Main st. address, opened last month. Ace Auto is a locally-owned and operated company.

PTA Sends Off Mt. Vernon Retirees With 'Memories'

The Mt. Vernon Elementary PTA held its meeting for an overflow crowd in the school cafeteria Thursday night, presided over by Jerry Reinecke, PTA president.

The varied agenda included a regular meeting to finalize the year's activities and install new PTA officers.

Lillian Collette officiated at the installation. But the highlight of the evening was the retirement ceremony for four Lemon Grove District employees who have worked at Mt. Vernon a total of 43 years.

A program titled "Memories" was made up of a series of skits and short narratives portraying the life of retiring Principal Wiley Cornelius and depicting school life from the lighter side.

Included were pantomime skits accompanied by slides presented by children, individual acts and choirs from each grade level.

An adult choir sang "School Days" and put on a skit depicting "A Typical School Day" that involved the lives of the four retirees.

Cornelius, principal at Mt. Vernon for 16½ years and in the school district 24½ years, has been an outstanding figure in Lemon Grove community affairs, active in his church and devoted to the affairs of education.

The same occasion honored Mrs. Edna Killam, a secretary at Mt. Vernon for 16½ years and in the school district 19½ years. Also honored were Mrs. Loretta Miller, retiring school nurse after 22 years with the district, and Jim Grandjean, fifth grade teacher with the district 25 years.

All four retirees plan to do some traveling as soon as possible. Plaques from the parents and children were presented to each retiree and the program came to a close with Tempy Dell Cornelius, daughter of the retiring principal, singing two of her father's favorite songs.

Local elected officials, elected by contributions and manpower from public employee organizations, are loathe to apply the full force of the law (e.g. San Francisco Board of Supervisors).

State legislative action to overturn local ordinances and allow public employee strikes is held back only because this is election year. The answer is the initiative constitutional amendment providing for the dismissal of striking public employees such as one sponsored by the Committee for Individual Rights, P.O. Box 7782, Van Nuys, CA 91409. 500,000 valid signatures are needed to qualify for the ballot. The deadline for all signatures to be returned to the Committee is July 10, 1976.

Sincerely, Betty Cordoba and Dolly Swift, Calabasas, CA.

Visit Costs CB Radio

While John Jordan Riggs, of 9771 Dale ave., Spring Valley, was visiting a neighbor one evening, someone removed his CB radio from his Pinto auto.

The thief pried down a window, breaking the mechanism, to get to the radio valued at $191. He didn't estimate the cost of repairing the window of his Pinto.

Dear Editor:

Disruptive, illegal public employee strikes must be stopped. Small groups of striking public employees cannot be allowed to cripple cities as they have done recently in San Francisco and elsewhere.

Public employee strikes are illegal in California by court decision but this is not enforced. Some teeth in the law is necessary. Striking public employees must be dismissed. If this is done, such strikes will soon cease.

Although a local effort at the ballot box is often successful in the aftermath of such strikes, it is not the solution to the problem for two reasons.

Local elected officials, elected by contributions and manpower from public employee organizations, are loathe to apply the full force of the law (e.g. San Francisco Board of Supervisors).

State legislative action to overturn local ordinances and allow public employee strikes is held back only because this is election year.

A Look at Past Issues

Back Pages

A look at the pages of this newspaper twenty years ago reveals some of the interesting contrasts between then and now. This column highlights some of the items that appeared in this newspaper at this time two decades ago.

By Bruce Binkowski

Water availability in Spring Valley and Lemon Grove was cut one-fourth 20 years ago this week for 24 hours. The announcement was made by officials of the Lemon Grove water works. Water quantity was drastically reduced so a new 51" line near Grossmont High School could be tied into the system. District officials asked that no water be used for lawns, car washing or even the laundry during the emergency period.

The Lemon Grove Post Office was "officially" opened to business and dedicated to postal service on Saturday, June 9, 1956, during a brief ceremony on the rear platform of the new building. The new office was located at 7591 Broadway.

Carol Wilson, 17, was named winner in the first annual Lemon Grove Junior Chamber of Commerce "Miss Lemon Grove" contest. The runners-up were Linda Leach and Jill Sonka, both 17. The winner received a $25 savings bond, gift certificates from various merchants, a trip to Hollywood and a tour of 20th Century Fox studios, plus several trophies. Miss Wilson also reigned as queen of the Lemon Grove Queen.

A false note was struck in the proceedings when one of the contestants charged that one of the winners had worn a padded bra in the swim suit section of the competition.

This was strictly illegal according to the national Miss America rules and regulations by which the Jaycee contest was judged. Since the complaint was registered after the contest and not during the affair, no action was taken by the sponsors of the event.

Traffic at Broadway and Imperial eastbound was twice as heavy, especially around the 4:30 p.m. rush hour, since the opening of the new freeway into Lemon Grove. Apparently, there was not a traffic signal at the intersection. The REVIEW/BULLETIN hoped a flagman could be stationed on Broadway to stop north and southbound traffic to allow cars moving in the other directions to make their way home in better time.

Results of the June 5 election in the Spring Valley and Lemon Grove area were announced David Bird was elected Supervisor in the 2nd District; Congressman Utt was placed on the November ticket; the County Charter was amended and area residents, through their votes, authorized the Water Board to incur indebtedness out of funds received.

The Lemon Grove office of U. S. National Bank (now Crocker) was one year and one day old on June 14, 1956. The bank had opened June 13, 1955.

Remember when auto racing was featured in Balboa Stadium? San Diego's 1956 speedway season was started Saturday evening, June 16, 1956 with a 200-lap main event for late model stock cars. Entries included 1956 Fords, Chevrolets, Dodges, Plymouths, Buicks and Pontiacs.

House Has Jobs for 6,200 Needy Youths

The Neighborhood House Association will participate in a "Summer Youth Program" in conjunction with the San Diego Regional Youth Employment Program of the City of San Diego.

Summer jobs for 6,200 economically disadvantaged youths, ages 14-21, will be provided under contract to the Regional Employment and Training Consortium.

Youths will be paid $2.30 an hour for a 32-hour week, during nine weeks.
